B) Report

I. Title

Collage Day Programme

II. Introduction

The Department of Economics organized a College Day Programme on 9 February 2026 as a part of Experimental Learning initiatives. The programme aimed to bridge the gap between theoretical economic concepts and their practical application through active student participation. The event provided a platform for B.A. III and M.A. II year students to demonstrate their analytical, presentation, and organizational skills. Designed in alignment with outcome-based education and NEP guidelines, the programme encouraged experiential learning through economic models, case discussions, and interactive sessions. It fostered leadership qualities, teamwork, and critical thinking among students while enhancing their academic confidence.

III. Objectives of Poster Presentation Competition

- ❖ To promote experiential learning through practical exposure to economic concepts.
- ❖ To increase the confidence of the students.
- ❖ To develop the speech skills of the students.
- ❖ To improve the communication skills of the students.
- ❖ To expand the teaching skills of the students.
- ❖ To connect theoretical knowledge with real-life economic issues.
- ❖ To give the students a one-day experience of being a professor.

IV. Details of Participants

Participants 17 (06 Male and 11 Female) Participated the Collage Day Programme.

V. Brief Summary of Events/ Sessions

In order to increase the confidence of the students, develop speech skills, develop communication skills, develop teaching skills and provide one-day experience as a professor, the Economics Department organized a one-day College Day program for B.A. III and M. A. II class students on 09/02/2026.

The College Day Programme commenced with a formal inauguration and welcome address by Dr. Gadekar B. P., who emphasized the importance of experimental learning in economics education. He highlighted how practical exposure strengthens conceptual clarity and prepares students for research and competitive examinations. On this occasion, B.A. III and M. A. II class students participated in the College Day program enthusiastically. On this occasion, the Head of the Department, Dr. B.P. Gadekar, J. H. Gaikwad and Nitin Walke Sir guided and evaluated the students for teaching. All the participating students were congratulated and the Best Teacher Award was given to Shrinivas Puri (UG) and Sakshi Kamble (PG) among all the participating students.

VI. Conclusion on the Programme

In order to develop the teaching skills of the students and to provide one-day experience as a professor, a one-day College Day program was organized by the Department of Economics for B.A. Third and M. A. Second Class students on 09/02/2026.

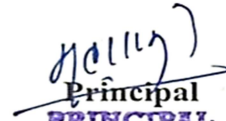

The College Day Programme proved to be a highly successful and enriching academic initiative. It effectively integrated theory with practice and encouraged active student involvement. Participants expressed that the experimental approach enhanced their understanding of economic concepts and improved their confidence in public speaking and research presentation. Faculty members appreciated the enthusiasm, creativity, and disciplined coordination displayed by the students. Overall, the programme fulfilled its objectives of promoting experiential learning and academic excellence. The Department of Economics received positive feedback and plans to conduct similar innovative programmes in the future to strengthen applied learning practices. An attempt was made to develop teaching skills in the students through this program.
