B) Report

i. Title: Student Induction Programme (SIP-2022)

ii. Introduction : -

SIP-2022 was held for B.Sc.BT I year on August 22 and 23, 2022. The goal of the student induction event was to acquaint students with the present biotechnology graduate program. Inform the students about the higher education test system, different co-curricular and extracurricular activities. The pupils should be informed about upcoming national level exams and career opportunities.

iii. Objectives of Lecture : -

- To inform students about Autonomous college and its functioning in academics.
- Students must know the curriculum and syllabi and its outcomes in undergraduate programme.
- Students must know examination pattern, which includes internal and Semester End Examination evaluation systems (CBCS system).
- Students will be aware about significance of co-curricular and extra-curricular programmes in higher education and personality development.
- Students must know the skill based certificate courses such as Plant tissue culture and its significance in future to improve own curriculum vitae.

iv. Details of Participants

56 participants (28 Male and 28 female) attended the Programme.
