B) Report

i. Title: Guest Lecture on the Occasion of International Day of Women and Girls in Science on "Women and Girls in Science: Agents of Change"

ii. Introduction

A significant gender gap has persisted throughout the years at all levels of science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) disciplines all over the world. Gender equality and the empowerment of women and girls will make a crucial contribution not only to economic development of the world, but to progress across all the goals. Every year the International Day of Women and Girls in Science is an observance adopted by the United Nations General Assembly to promote the full and equal access and participation of females in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) fields. On this occasion guest lecture on the occasion of International Day of Women and Girls in Science on "Women and Girls in Science: Agents of Change" was organized by Department of Computer Science on 11th February, 2022.

iii. Objectives of the Programme/ issues addressed:

- To promote the full and equal access and participation of females in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) fields.
- To join the international community worldwide in celebrating the biggest day for women and girls in science.
- To learn about the role of Women in Science and Sustainable Development.

iv. Details of Participants: 81 participants (51 female, 30 male)

v. Brief Summary of Events/ Sessions:

Dr. Renuka Londhe delivered the concept note. Miss. S. M. Jadhav introduced the resource person. Resource Person Dr. M. Krishnaveni (Assistant Professor, Center for Marine Science & Technology Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, Tamilnadu) has discussed the importance of Gender Equality, explained the present situation of Women and Girls in Science as well as how women are playing the role as Agents of Change. She presented the information regarding the various sectors where the women's have already given and now also giving their best performance. Vote of Thanks was given by Miss. D. V. Sharma.

vi. Conclusion with feedback on the programme:

Through this guest lecture the participants understood that, women participation in STEM research is necessary for increasing the women contribution in science which will ultimately lead to ensure the women empowerment and gender balance in STEM fields.
