B) Report

I. Title

Guest Lecture on Entrepreneurship and Skills Development

II. Introduction

Program for the development of entrepreneurship and skills are intended to motivate, instruct, and provide people with the information and abilities necessary to investigate and seize business possibilities. These initiatives seek to increase understanding of the role that entrepreneurship plays in promoting innovation, economic expansion, and job creation. They give prospective business owners a place to learn about all the different facets of launching and running a company, from financial management to market tactics and idea generation. These courses, which include important subjects including innovation, market strategy, and financial management, offer insightful information about launching and running a business. The objective is to encourage entrepreneurial thinking and provide participants with the information and resources they need to investigate entrepreneurial opportunities or pursue their own business endeavours.

III. Objectives of the Programme/ Issues addressed

- To highlight the vital role entrepreneurship plays in fostering innovation and stimulating economic development.
- To inspire individuals to view entrepreneurship as a rewarding career choice that supports both personal and professional advancement.
- To equip participants with key entrepreneurial competencies, including problem-solving, decision-making, and critical thinking skills.
- To provide a platform for networking with peers, mentors, and prospective collaborators who share similar interests and ambitions.
- To educate aspiring entrepreneurs about the various support mechanisms and funding opportunities available to help launch and grow their ventures.

IV. Details of Participants

Total 110 Participants (71 Female and 39 Male) attended the program.

i. Brief Summary of Events/ Sessions

In the Guest Lecture on Entrepreneurship and Skills Development, Mr. Rajesh Chanchlani delivered an in-depth discussion covering essential aspects of starting and managing a business. He addressed fundamental questions such as what type of business to start, the right time to begin, the ideal location, and the step-by-step process involved in launching a venture. His practical guidance helped participants understand how to make informed decisions at each stage of their entrepreneurial journey. During the session, he also presented a variety of business ideas influenced by developments in neighbouring countries, broadening the audience’s outlook on emerging opportunities in the region. He motivated young aspiring entrepreneurs to adopt a creative mindset and focus on innovative approaches to stand out in today’s competitive marketplace. Furthermore, Mr. Chanchlani shared important information about various government funding schemes designed to support start-ups. He explained how these initiatives can offer essential financial aid and resources, enabling young entrepreneurs to transform their ideas into successful business ventures.

ii. Conclusion with Feedback on the Programme

The session proved to be both motivating and empowering, providing aspiring entrepreneurs with the knowledge, strategies, and resources required to begin their entrepreneurial journey. He effectively emphasized that obstacles and challenges can act as stepping stones in building essential entrepreneurial competencies. His insights on selecting the appropriate time, location, and approach for launching a business offered participants a structured path toward achieving success. By presenting innovative business concepts inspired by neighboring countries, he inspired young entrepreneurs to adopt creative thinking and explore untapped opportunities. Additionally, his detailed explanation of government funding schemes was highly valuable, equipping participants with important information about financial assistance available to help initiate and grow their ventures.
