Introduction :

It has been an important place in the social life of Indian societies, in the social, cultural, and financial sectors. The ancient medieval modern era is an era of Indian culture, and during this period, the education of Indian society is an important place in the Indian education system. Although human has progressed in all spheres of human life, education, When it comes to appraisal, we can't look back to our earlier history.

In ancient times there was a significant place in education system and in human life. There was an important tradition of the Guru and the disciples. Guru and his disciples had a very important role in shaping human life. Social values had an important status while being in the world. Mother was a disgusting student at her home. This means that his life could get significant shape. He was considered as Divas. Later, the era changed, but the system of education continued in the same way. In the educational development of the state, the principals had a valuable support to the subjects with professional education. Nearly the English system of government was in place before it was introduced in India.

Even though the education system started in the English government, even though the propagation of education was very small in those days, the rites and traditions were very rich. The villages were self-sufficient. The population of the village was limited. Due to the drought like diseases and the problems faced by many such calamities, our culture helped keep the society alive. The education system was developed in the same way that the British helped in administering the administration of the British rule, there was no need for the education of the British or their administrative officers to provide job-oriented education and increase literacy through education, due to the lack of clerical education system.

They will take care that the class will be created so that the administration will help in running the administration. 5 to 10% of society became literate during the British rule. As Indian students, who were educated in English, tried to remove the faults of the Indian society in large numbers, it should have helped in removing the faults in Indian society. Social ethics, value education, value helped in a great deal of time. This has helped in removing the errors in the Indian system. After this, the society started providing illiterate school of education to all the people of education. That is what the social reformers tried to reach out to the national aspirations of learning from this letter. This led to a true freedom movement. Educated Indian youths have an important role in the independence movement.

During the post-independence period, academic progress was very high. Education doors are being opened by different organizations and the result is that the country has progressed in the country. Despite the progress of Indian society in large scale due to scientific and financial mismanagement, it is necessary to maintain Indian social order through social and moral problems. Policy, ethics, ethics help to maintain social balance. There have been significant changes in the 21st century in the global and Indian system. In the Indian system, behaviorism, material progress, and moral space have been traded. The progress of the society and the country is clearly visible in the nation's educational system.

The progress made by science has to be credited to the education system of that country. But, while making physical progress, if the moral values are laid out then the country can progress in the right way. Today, society will help to prevent a large number of corruption and other problems. In a country where moral values began to collapse, there were many anti-national problems in that country. Due to the demise of moral values, anarchy, unemployment etc. in the country. Due to the fact that the country appears to go to Patanjastha. It will be necessary to take self-examination of the social life and educational system of our nation by taking measures for this. India has received a large number of economic rituals. There are innumerable such saints. The benefits of this saint tradition should be through ethical values in the educational field.

Today, India is moving towards greater progress. With this progress, big companies are emerging in the country. Indian youth is holding positions in nominated companies all over the world. This has led to an increase in the indifference of Indians. But morality in Ethical education is important for this to be so. Indian people love their values very much, as a parent, this is OK. But if it is necessary to carry out social responsibility or social responsibility in a proper manner, then it is necessary for them to fulfill their duties by accepting the responsibilities of the family. Only then can ethical values be preserved through a social perspective in the country. Young people are becoming a bigger person in the field of development or progress. Although it is easily accessible to all material things, it is necessary to carry out the responsibilities of your family in a proper way, due to the decline of ethical values, the type of family dissolution is increasing. It is a sign of the decline of Indian moral values that new parents are coming out in the ashram. At the same time, family life can be healthy only if your children should be made aware of family responsibilities.

In today's era, teachers should play an important role in understanding the moral values, but not only for the knowledge of the students, but also to provide book knowledge only for economic progress, the main purpose of this book will be to make it important for the use of knowledge books as a tool of knowledge. . This will enable students to develop hormonal progress in their lives in social, economic, cultural and spiritual life, and coordinate the proper progress in the life of the nation and in their own lives.

If there is a need for skill development through academic development, the government will have to take stringent measures. In the course of education, there should be no prejudice for education of any religion in the country. Apart from academic curriculum, sports and sports should get the advantage.

It implies that due to moral education the family system will have a positive impact on social life and family health, which will help in speeding up the progress of the nation.
