3. As per the university guidelines 20%, of the course contents can be reduced for the UG and PG programmes of the II, III and IV semester. After deliberations about the merits and demerits of reducing the syllabus it was unanimously decided not to reduce the syllabus as there are enough time to complete the syllabus and also a large interest of the benefits to the students. The following resolution was unanimously passed to that effect:

'Resolved that the syllabus of UG and PG programmes not to reduce as per the guidelines of university for the large interest of the students and consent of the faculty members'.

The members also congratulated the faculty members for their willingness to teach the complete syllabus though the university allows to reduce them.
